DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chess, (US 6,192,512).

As per claims 1-26, Chess teaches a system for processing command line input, the system comprising: a command line interface comprising a set of executable commands; and a command line processor for, at least; parsing the command line input; identifying one or more macros within the input; expanding the one or more macros by replacing the one or more macros with at least one executable command of the command line interface, the at least one executable command comprising at least one string; and, executing the set of executable commands independent of compilation. (Abstract, cols.2-8)
